

The Season of Lent

March 1st, 2015

8:00 AM

The 40 days of Lent are a time for followers of Jesus to consider the great sacrifice of God for the sake of His people. Lent is a time of prayer, reflection and repentance as we journey with Christ to the cross and the empty tomb.

Today the color on the altar and on the banners is purple. Purple is used during this penitential season of Lent as a vivid reminder of the contempt and scorn Jesus endured, and the subsequent sacrifice he made for our eternal salvation. Ecclesiastical purple should remind all Christians of their daily need to humbly give attention to leading a life of repentance.

What you see in church:

Processional Cross: These crosses have been used since the 4th century. They signal the focus of our worship and the presence of Christ as we gather and depart.

The Pulpit: This symbolizes the authority of the church to preach the Word of God.

Altar Candles: Lit candles are a symbol of Christ being the light of the world. In the worship service Christ comes to us in both the Word and in the sacraments.

PASTORAL WELCOME

We also welcome today those watching our service live via our Live Web Stream on the Internet.

Perpetua and Felicity, Martyrs

Saints Perpetua and Felicity probably were martyred in the year 203. The Greek word "martyr" means "witness," so all the martyred soldiers of the cross were understood as witnesses to faith in the Lord Jesus Christ by being willing to suffer death rather than renounce Him. Perpetua was a married noblewoman, said to have been 22 years old at the time of her death, and mother of an infant whom she was still nursing. Felicity, a slave imprisoned with her and pregnant at the time, was martyred with her after she had given birth. They were put to death along with others at Carthage in North Africa. The Passion of St. Perpetua, St. Felicitas, and their Companions is one of the oldest and most notable early Christian texts. It survives in both Latin and Greek forms, and purports to contain the actual prison diary of the young mother and her fellow martyr, Perpetua. Scholars generally believe that it is authentic, although in the form we have it, it may have been edited by others. The text also purports to contain, in his own words, the accounts of the visions of Saturus, another Christian martyred with Perpetua. An editor, who states he was an eyewitness, has added accounts of the martyrs' suffering and deaths. On the day of the games, the martyrs were led into the amphitheater. At the demand of the crowd they were first scourged before a line of gladiators; then a boar, a bear, and a leopard were set on the men, and a wild cow on the women. Wounded by the wild animals, they gave each other the kiss of peace and were then put to the sword. The text describes Perpetua's death as follows: "But Perpetua, that she might have some taste of pain, was pierced between the bones and shrieked out; and when the swordsman's hand wandered still (for he was a novice), herself set it upon her own neck. Perchance so great a woman could not else have been slain." Their names mean "constancy" and "joy."

Help needed—Lost DVDs: It is my role as a member of the Media Team to create the audio podcast files for our sermons and Bible studies, which can be accessed under the Media Tap (PODCASTS) on the KOG webpage (www.kogva.org).

We have master DVDs going back as far as December 10, 2005. However, we are missing DVDs for a significant chunk of time, the period between June 22, 2006 and November 23, 2008. There are no master DVDs for that time frame. Pastor George Lobien was a pastor during that "lost" period, and so I pray that some of you may have copies of some of those missing DVDs from those dates. Please check to see if you might have any DVD recordings from this time period, and also share this request with any others who may have had access to them. If you can find any DVDs, please bring them to the church so I can make a copy and we can preserve that time period in our archive files. Of course any DVD copies will be returned to you.

Thank you! —Larry Van Doren, illini60929@yahoo.com

FROM THE CHURCH OFFICE

A note about the weather: What a winter! Thank you for your patience and support as we have had to cancel activities and close the church for everyone's safety. Our policy for the past several years has been to follow the WJCC School System's lead on closing. If the local schools deem the roads dangerous enough to close or delay, then King of Glory also closes or delays. This is simply for your safety. If you are unsure about whether the church will be open, check the local news outlets for WJCC closings and delays; you may also want to check your email for the latest e-blast announcement from KOG, our website at www.kogva.org, our Facebook page, or our Twitter account.
